

MEDICAL & GENERAL DISCLAIMER

This disclaimer is to clarify my role as Creator and Author of the Personal Longevity Training Program and to provide some legal protection:

- The Creator & Author is not a medical professional so any claims he makes are not backed up by any type of professionally accepted scientific evidence or formal training on his part.
- The Creator & Author does not make any claims to cure any medical conditions or to guarantee any increases in individual lifespans
- The Creator & Author is not an herbalist or pharmacologist so is not claiming that his suggestions in using herbs are based on any specialized expertise on his part. Caution and review of suggested supplements with experts is always recommended to make sure the individual doesn't have any medical side effects.
- The Creator & Author is not a Minister or Priest in any formal religious tradition so does not claim any special expert knowledge in those traditions.
- Any information or pictures in this book which the Author did not write or create may have been copied and modified from publicly available sources on the internet

Sincerely,

Martin K. Ettington

March 10, 2012